

TDR Welcome Emails

Body (Long Form)

Subject: our secret to predicting your success with TDR [Important]

Good afternoon [FirstName],

For nearly ten years we've helped people just like you accomplish their business goals. After thousands of tasks done right, I've discovered the #1 indicator for predicting powerful, explosive, and stress-free growth... it's shockingly simple (you'll require this from your own clients and customers from now on, too).

So, what's the secret?

Providing clear, timely feedback.

Surprised? I was too...

But here's how it works: Precise communication is the lifeblood of getting things done. When you give us feedback following a completed task, you directly contribute to your own success.

Fast and high-quality feedback allows fast and high-quality improvements.

Our best and most wildly successful clients often give us feedback within 24 business hours.

Conversely, slow or no feedback brings everything to a screeching halt and cripples our abilities to help you succeed and often indicates a lack of interest and commitment...which is incompatible with the TDR philosophy.

If you're as excited as we are about your business growth, commit today to timely feedback and we guarantee you'll get the best possible results from our services.

We're excited to help you to meet and exceed your business goals.

Good afternoon [FirstName],

For nearly ten years we've helped people just like you accomplish their business goals and after thousands of interactions, I stumbled upon the #1 indicator for predicting powerful, explosive, and stress-free growth... it's shockingly simple (you'll require this from your own clients and customers from now on, too).

So, what's the secret?

Providing clear, timely feedback.

Surprised? I was too...

But here's how it works: Communication is the lifeblood of getting things done.

Good and timely feedback means:

- Faster turnaround times
- More significant improvements
- Increased profitability for your investment
- Greater scalability for your business

Conversely, slow or no feedback cripples our abilities to help you succeed and indicates a lack of interest and commitment...which is incompatible with the TDR philosophy.

If you're as excited as we are about your business growth, commit today to timely feedback and we guarantee you'll get the best possible results from our services.

We are excited to help you to meet and exceed your business goals.
